Favorite drink: Orange Crush

Medical history: Arthur had a stroke when he was approximately in his 50s. He had a full recovery except for a slight pull at the corner of his mouth. Arthur died of old age.

Many people left Germany, especially from the Palatine area, in the early to mid-1700s. Johan Michael Braun was one. He was born Jan 15, 1724 and according to Rupp's "Thirty Thousand Immigrants", he arrived at Philadelphia, Pennsylvania on Sept. 26, 1737. He had sailed on the ship, "Saint Andrew Galley". John Stedham, Master.

He settled in East Hanover, Lebanon Twp, Lancaster Co, Pennsylvania. (Later Dauphin Co, and now Lebanon Co.) He met Anna Margaret Karger who lived in the town of Warwick, also in Lancaster Co. They were married on Jan 26, 1746 in the Hill Evangelical Lutheran Church by Reverend John Casper Stoever.

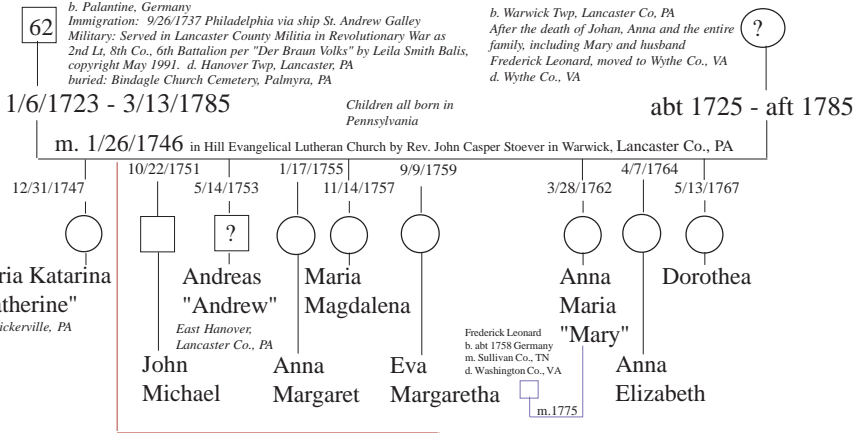

Michael and Anna farmed in East Hanover. They had a mill on their property that was erected at Sahara Creek and Michael was a blacksmith.

Michael died in Lebanon Twp, Lancaster Co, Pennsylvania and he was buried in Bindagle's Church Cemetery north of Palmyra with the following inscription on his tombstone: Michael Brown b. 5 Jan, 1724 d. 13 Mar, 1785 2nd Lt., 8th Co, 6th Batt, Lancaster Co Militia (Revolutionary War)

According to Mary Blaylock, widow of Arthur's younger brother, Orville, Sam lived with her and her husband for 9 years before he died. Sam said his father came from Ireland during the potato famine of the 1840s and was living in Kentucky, working on the railroad. Sam's father was killed in an accident when Sam was 4-years-old. His mother, Catherine, moved back home, and his grandmother helped raise him. --jk

Arthur takes a break from work to have his picture made with daughter, Grace

William ARTHUR Blaylock was known as a very strong man, even though he had a slight stature. According to family legend, Arthur was paid a wage and a half when he worked for the railroad, because he could carry two railroad ties at one time. Another family story reports a time when a taxi cab had a flat tire on the road near his home and the driver had no tire jack in the car. So, Arthur held up the car while the driver changed the tire. Arthur was a very quiet man who died of old age. -- Judy Blaylock

Francoise Marmaroli

passed away on January 21, 2015

During WWII, while in Marseilles, France, Herbert met and fell in love with Francoise Marmaroli. Francoise was pregnant with Herbert's daughter when Herbert was discharged and sent home to the States. Herbert obtained the necessary paperwork to have Francoise join him in the U.S. The facts surrounding the fact that Francoise never came to the United States are unknown to this genealogist. However, the lovely GISELE FRANCINE LOUISE MARMAROLI MARTIN has been found, or rather, her youngest son found us, her America family. We are so happy and excited to now have a relationship with our first sister.

"Aunt Catharine was just an adolescent girl when I was born, and she used to come over and play with me a lot. Her brothers and sisters called her Cat, for short. One day, when I was about as lonely as a 2-year-old can get--or spoiled for attention as the case may be--I went to the door and called, 'Hey Aunt Kitty Cat', get me."
